Gentlemen:

As the only man in our vicinity qualified to identify coins unfortunately died some months ago, I am writing to inquire if there is a member on your staff who undertakes such work, and if so what are the charges.

An answer at your earliest convenience would be greatly appreciated.

Yours very truly,

Susie W. Mott.

Dear Madam:

Your letter of November 24th concerning the identifying of coins is at hand.

Our staff here is so small just at present that we do not care to undertake further work. The distance, however, I would think would also be an obstacle. Why not communicate with the Pacific Coast Numismatic Club, of which Mr. Basil Brandon, 326 26th Avenue, San Francisco, is Secretary. He undoubtedly could advise you as to who there is in your vicinity capable of helping you out.

It will always be our pleasure to help the Oakland Public Museum with any knotty problems.

Very truly yours,

Acting Secretary and Curator
